Describe the SMART Objectives of Your Commitment (i.e. Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic and Time-Bound).

Organization of Africa Youth through the multi-partner coalition commits to advocating for the provision of rights-based adolescents and youth friendly health services (family planning and RMNCAH) by reaching at least 5,000 adolescents and youth , 1,000 front line health services providers, and 500 religious and cultural leaders. Furthermore, we commit to influencing the content of the Kenya National Youth Policy and at least three other relevant policies, to reflect the current and emerging issues related to family planning and every new born action plan by advocating for improvement in access to, and quality of healthcare for young women and newborns by 2020. We believe that young people are experts in identifying their age specific RH challenges and the barriers they face in designing the solutions for the same. We will focus on ensuring that young people understand their right to quality family planning and other health programs that respect and protect their right to make their own decisions about the type of reproductive health services they wish to receive and be part of all levels of design and delivery of their RH programs.

Organization of Africa Youth, in collaboration with Kenya AYSRHR/HIV Network and Fit for Life Africa will advocate for the youth friendly health services through youth led coordinated advocacy from the grass root level through citizens' hearings and existing accountability structures in Kenya and also work with the government to disseminate, Adolescents And Youth Friendly Health Services Training Manual that we jointly contributed to, to health service providers. The focus will be on coalition building at the grassroots and empower the youth to understand advocacy tactics to push for accountability from the duty bearers. The outcomes of the advocacy documented as case studies will inform our proposed interventions and policies around RMNCAH and our inputs to the National Youth policy, which is currently under review, and relevant policies/documents at sub national, national, regional and global levels.
